For regular customers with contract their dispatches can be priced and discounted at the end of each month. In this case, the amount of Basic Discounts will be calculated on the basis of the total number of parcels per month, while the Additional Discounts will be calculated by applying the relevant percentage % per category of parcels on the total monthly fees of this category. The relative analysis per category should be reported in the Bulk Statements and to be recorded, after audit, at the Bulk Parcels Book.

All discounts are applied only on bulk parcels and they are calculated proportionately on the total Basic and Special Fees.
